Welcome, Ruth!

Solar Under the Sun is pleased to introduce our new Director of Operations: Ruth Dwyer. A pivoting pediatrician, Ruth is interested in how ordinary individuals can connect to improve lives worldwide. While working on an MBA (George Washington University, anticipated graduation Spring 2024), she has taken courses on sustainability and strategic foresight. She has learned about how energy poverty impacts health, education, and one's ability to get out of poverty--especially for women and children. She's thrilled to join the SUS team with all of the good work the SUS family has done in such little time.

As an advocate for children, she has testified in the US House of Representatives and received a Governor's Citation in recognition of contributions made to the health and well-being of Maryland's children.

Her entrepreneurship experience includes two pediatric startups, a center for abused children and leadership of the Physician Hospital Organization that changed the face of US healthcare when it petitioned the US Federal Trade Commission to allow the formation of clinically integrated networks (a US healthcare model that now gets over 250 million hits on Google.) Her MD is from Washington University, and she did her pediatric residency at Yale, and is a proud graduate of the University of Northern Iowa.

On a personal note, she is happily married with three amazing teenagers and a dog. She likes to hang out on the family paddle board with her kids- (when she can talk them into it), travel, and paint (both canvas and walls).

To contact Ruth, you can email her here.
